Credit Risk Management of Dhaka Bank Limited

Executive Summary

This internship report is based on my internship program and financial statements of 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014 and 2015 of Dhaka Bank Limited. In my internship period, I worked in HR Division in Corporate Office. It was a great opportunity to experience and gather knowledge about different types of banking operations. My faculty supervisor helped me to choose the topic- “Credit Risk Management of Dhaka Bank Limited”.

Dhaka Bank Limited is a listed commercial bank having the aim of serving the community. Dhaka Bank focuses on a wide range of financial products and services comprising commercial banking through conventional and Islamic mode, brokerage services, SME agriculture, consumer banking, credit card and offshore banking. The bank has established leadership in corporate banking with growing focus on SME and consumer business. It also plays a leading role in syndicated and structured financing. DBL has almost all banking products in its stock from student banking to Business banking.

The study not only focuses on the activities of Dhaka Bank Limited but also highlights the credit management system of the bank. It also contains information about all credit proceedings. In the introduction chapter background, rationales, scope, objective of the study, the methods used for collecting information, limitations has been discussed. Moreover, I have focused on the overview of banking industry in Bangladesh as well as overview of Dhaka Bank Limited and its performance. The mission, vision, objectives, products and services have also been reflected in this report. Then, I emphasized on my internship topics, that covering credit risk analysis, how credit risk is measured and the models and tools available to evaluate it. I have discussed about loans and advances of DBL.

Then, I focused on credit sanctioning system, norms of credit sanction, supervision and monitoring of credit and the present changes in credit approval system.

I have conducted in depth interview with various officials of the banks to collect necessary information. The findings show that to reduce the non-performing loans, the bank should select borrowers in respect of their credit worthiness, capability to repay the loans; credit rating report of the borrower has a vital role in selection of borrower.

In the context of Bangladesh, most of the banks use CRG with few supplementary tools and their personal judgment to evaluate risk. The study was conducted to know the credit
Credit Risk Management of Dhaka Bank Limited

sanctioning system of DBL. The banking sector of Bangladesh is passing through a tremendous reform under the economic deregulation and opening up economy.
Currently, this sector is extremely competitive with the arrival of multinational banks, technological infrastructure, effective credit management, higher performance level and utmost customer satisfaction. Dhaka Bank Limited followed the credit policy and practices set by the management and the guideline set by the Bangladesh Bank. As a result, they are performing well in reducing the high classification rate and achieving the profit target of the bank.

As a part of my BBA program, I have spent 12 weeks in DBL, Head Office 71, Purana Paltan Lane, Dhaka- 1000 and learning the activities of HR Division. I have analyzed the financial statements of Financial Performance Analysis of Dhaka Bank Limited to find out its ratios by using its past and current records. After preparing this report I came to know that analysis of financial statements through ratios helps to overcome the past flaws and make the future decisions and strategies. Therefore, it is very necessary for every organization whether the company’s size is to make financial statement and to analyze it by ratios.
Chapter 01: Introduction

1.1 Introduction:
Generally by the word “bank” we can easily understand that the financial institution dealing with money. The whole scenario of the economy of a country can be ascertained by examining the condition of the banking sector. Banking sector has a vital role to play in the economic activities and development of any country. There are different types of banks like Central Banks, Commercial Banks, Savings Banks, Investment Banks, Industrial Banks, and Co-operative banks etc. But when we use the term “bank” without any prefix or restriction, it refers to the Commercial Banks. Commercial Banks are the primary contributors to the economy of a country like Bangladesh. In Bangladesh, the commercial banks are dominating the financial sector and macroeconomic management largely depends on the performance of the commercial banks as well as banking sector. Banking grew primarily in the public sector with main emphasis on restructuring of the financial system and development needs of the war-torn economy with gradual liberalization in subsequent years. It was increasingly felt that banks should be allowed in the private sector for giving a fillip to development process on the basis of private initiative. In the 80’s for the first time a number of banks in the private sector were allowed. Dhaka Bank is one of them. Today the banking concept is not continuing inside the branches or the cabin of the branches. The bankers are now practicing the non-cabin banking. The assurance of the availability of the service provider is main factor in bank service. As a result, it has become essential for every person to have some idea on the bank and banking procedure. At present, there are 56 scheduled banks operating all over the country. Out of these, 9 are state-owned (including five specialized banks), 38 are private commercial banks and the rest 9 are foreign commercial banks.

Even though banking sector in Bangladesh is going through a radical change, it still suffers from chronic inefficiency. The biggest problem of Bangladesh banking system is the bank loan default problem. Various initiatives have been undertaken to tackle the loan default problem in Bangladesh. One of them is to have a credit policy and procedures guideline mandated by the Bangladesh Bank.
1.2 Origin of the report:

Internship Program of BRAC University is a Graduation requirement for the BBA students, which is also a partial requirement of the Internship program of BBA curriculum. The main purpose of internship is to get the student exposed to the job world. Being an intern the main challenge was to translate the theoretical concepts into real life experience.

The internship program and the study have following purposes:

- To get and organize detail knowledge on the job responsibility.
- To experience the real business world.
- To compare the real scenario with the lessons learned in the University
- To fulfill the requirement of BBA Program.

To accomplish the internship, I was placed at Dhaka Bank Limited, Head Office 71, Purana Paltan Lane, Dhaka - 1000, under the guidance of Ms. Tanjina Shahjahan, Lecturer of BRAC Business School, my academic supervisor. The report topic was approved by the supervisor to satisfy the organizational requirements and fulfillment of the internship program. As a requirement of the completion of the internship program, I had to submit this report, which includes an overview of the organization and Credit Risk Management of Dhaka Bank Limited.

1.3 Background of the Report:

The main purpose of internship program is to expose the students to the real world situation. This report is prepared for the internship program consisting of a major in depth study of total banking business of Dhaka Bank Limited. The goal of this analysis is to expose the students in the organizational work situation and also to provide an opportunity for applying classroom learning in practice. The internship in the final of the program gives the way to practice what we have learnt. It enables students to apply their conceptual knowledge in the practical situation and to learn the art of conducting study and presenting its findings in a systematic manner. The report has been prepared on the basis of experience obtained throughout the internship period.
1.4 Objectives of the Report:

The report also particularizes the internship research focus, financial performance of Dhaka Bank Limited. This report has been prepared according to extensive analysis of financial statements, credit operating system and procedures of loan supervision.

1.6 Limitations of the Report:

Banking contains a huge volume of operation and it is quite impossible to gain knowledge about all activities during a research period. The major limitations of the study faced in preparing this report on disclosure procedure of Dhaka Bank Limited are:
Getting the information and interpreting it, on the basis of my understanding and then implementing it.

Being public limited company, the private commercial banks like Dhaka Bank Limited keep some information restricted like the actual amount of classified loans.

Financial statements only portray the figures or numbers and their break down but do not clarify the justifications in most of the time.

Some essential data could not gather because of confidentiality concerns.

Many procedural matters were conducted directly in the operations by the top management level, which may also give sort of restrictions.

For credit risk analysis Dhaka Bank Limited mainly focuses on personal judgment about the borrower and Credit Risk Grading (CRG) manuals is followed in risk analysis.

1.7 Methodology:

In order to generate this report both primary and secondary data has been used. The sources that have been used to gather and collect data are given below.

I. Primary Sources: Primary sources of the report are given below-

Chapter 02: Overview of Banking Industry in Bangladesh

2.1 History of Banking in the World:

When money became an accepted medium of exchange, the need arose to keep the money safe. In addition, some people needed to borrow money. These needs led to the development of banks. The earliest banking records, dated around 2000 B.C., indicate that Babylon had a highly developed banking system. Babylonian banks were not unlike the banks of today, except that you might say they had a monopoly. Many years later, in the sixth century B.C., the first private bank emerged—the Igibi bank.

Like today's bank, it accepted for deposit money on which it paid interest. It also lent money to persons who needed the money for worthwhile purposes and who repaid the borrowed funds with interest. By the fourth century B.C. Greece was the dominant nation in the world. Private and city-state-owned banks existed in the outlying lands of the Greek Empire, but only privately owned banks were allowed in Greece. Government to a great extent regulated these banks; however, Rome then became the dominant empire. Under early Roman law, banks could only be privately owned, but they were regulated by law. With the fall of the Roman Empire, banking became essentially illegal until the third century A.D. By the fourteenth century, when trade routes were being developed, privately owned banks were once again allowed. And by the fifteenth century, banks were needed to advance the huge sums of money required to send out ships to bring back valuable commodities such as spices; silk, and gold. At this time in history, banking was big business.

2.2 Banking System in Bangladesh:

The banking system of Bangladesh has undoubtedly made significant strides during the last years. Banking network now covers the entire country. Commercial banks play a very important role in our economy; in fact, it is difficult to imagine how our economic system could function efficiently without many of their services. They are the heart of our financial structure since they have the ability, in co-operation with Bangladesh bank to add to the money supply of the nation and thus create additional purchasing power. This characteristic sets commercial Banks apart from other financial institutions. In addition to issuing deposits payable in demands, they accept time deposits. By Lending and investing these resources and by transferring funds throughout the nation and even between countries, they make possible a more complete utilization of the resources of the nation. Although banks create no new wealth, their lending, investing and related activities facilitate the economic processes of production.

After the nationalization of banks in 1972, it was expected that the banks would play their due role for protecting social interest and in the economic development process of the country and thus reverse the trend as set in before liberation. Though Bangladesh Banks (Nationalization) Order, 1972 did not specifically spell out the objectives of the nationalization of banks, but considering the discontentment prevailing during Pakistan period and the basic principles of the country which were constitutionally established in 1972, the following major objectives of the nationalization of commercial banks might be discerned:

1. Expansion of bank branches for extension of bank services into rural areas.
2. Mobilization of domestic savings, particularly rural savings more effectively.
3. Providing of adequate credit to priority sectors such as agriculture, small industries,
4. Ensuring balanced regional development.
5. Removal of control of banks by few individual.

2.3 List of Banks in Bangladesh

The commercial banking system dominates Bangladesh's financial sector. Bangladesh Bank is the Central Bank of Bangladesh and the chief regulatory authority in the sector. The banking system is composed of four state-owned commercial banks, five specialized development banks, thirty private commercial Banks and nine foreign commercial banks.

- If borrower dies unexpectedly and family members does not have the circumstances to repay the loan then the loan defaults.

- If the ship on which the goods were coming suddenly drowns then default case arises.

- If the product on the basis of which loan was taken looses the market demand then the borrower faces a huge loss in the market and thus becomes unable to make payment.

6.1 Findings of Credit Risk Department:

Though I started my internship program in HR Division but I got the chance to work in the Credit Risk Department for two weeks. During my internship period, I found some lacking in Credit Risk Department of DBL. They are given below.

- The loans and advance department takes a long time process because the process done manually.
- The rate of interest rate is higher than that of some other banks.
- DBL does not allow small entrepreneurs to give loan.
- DBL does not grant loans for new entrepreneurs, new businessmen and new companies.
- DBL does not update its website regularly. Clients are not able to gather information.
Moreover, there are some other issues for which Credit Risk Department of Dhaka Bank Limited are lagging behind compare to the other banks. The other reasons are:

1. Installment period and installment time duration is relatively low. For this reason, sometimes the borrower cannot utilize their debt facility properly for profit maximization.
2. Not enough innovative products have been used in Credit Risk Department.
3. Online banking facilities, ATM services and mobile banking facility are not available.
4. Maximum amount of loans are provided in the long term industrial loan sector.
5. The loan and advance activities of Credit Risk Department of DBL are not appropriate enough to survive in the market.

6.2 Recommendations

DBL is one of the well known banks in our country. From my little knowledge it is quite hard to give recommendation to such a well established bank. But from my learning and observation, I am giving some recommendations. The recommendations are given below.

1. The procedure of loan sanctioning should be automated to make sanctioning of loan less time consuming and reducing the risk of losing documents of disbursed loans.
2. To create better client the bank should decrease the rate of interest on different sector such as: Small business loan.
3. The bank should provide student loan and also increase the amount of personal loan.
4. The credit risk management (CRM) employees should be given training for better evaluation of all loan applications in a structured and scientific way and select only those applications, which has a sound creditworthiness and repayment capability.
5. The CRM should be strict to see that all the procedures of loan evaluation and monitoring are followed before giving any new loans.
6. If the client fails to make timely repayment, pressure should be created on him to make the payment urgently and no further credit should be allowed to him unless he pays back the previous dues.

7. Installment period and installment time duration should be increased so that the borrower can utilize their debt facility properly for profit maximization.

8. The bank should provide more loans of small scale in different sectors though it will decrease the profit a little.

9. Strong promotional activities should be increased to motivate its present potential loans related clients. More loans can be granted for new entrepreneurs, new companies.

10. The procedure of credit sanctioning should be automated to make sanctioning of loan less time consuming and reducing the risk of losing documents of disbursed loans.

6.3 Conclusion:

Credit policy is a very convenient banking tool for the business world. The value of this service is immense. It has gathered such a position in the banking sectors that people at developed and also developing counties are very much depended on this service. The study of the report refers to the fact that people are aware of loan facilities in our country but they are not fully aware of the services or features of the loan process and its rules and regulations especially in case of individual or consumer loans. From the study it seems that Dhaka Bank focuses on the corporate sectors for the credit facility. But in case of consumer loans there are lots of restrictions created by the DBL.

Credit Division of Dhaka Bank, Head Office has a very qualified and dedicated group of officers and staffs who are always trying to provide the best service to the clients. They always monitor the credit in different sectors and their position. Before providing the loan they analyze whether the loan will be profitable and whether the client is good enough to repay the loan within the given period of time.
Credit department diversified their loans in different sectors classified by them. Among the sectors they don't provide little loans in the agricultural side. The reason they showed is that this sector is very risky and depends on natural climate and so they reduce to expand loan in agricultural sector. They provide lower loan in the micro level & cottage industry. The reason is that the return from this sector is not very good and also the sector is very uncertain. They provide most of the credit facility in term loan mainly in long-term loans. Return from short-term loan is very good and also proves to be very safe to finance.

So, from the report and also from my short experience it seems that the credit management and performance of Dhaka Bank is quite good and acceptable though it is a second-generation bank and established in 1995. There credit approval and monitoring process and its performance increased very rapidly and still trying their best to improve more and more. So, within a very short period they earned the respect and acceptance from the customers and now it is one of the leading private commercial bank of the country.
