CHAPTER 6

Recommendations

During my three months’ internship period I analyzed their recruitment and selection is process. In HR division recruitment department is very important and strong department however there are some aspect that need to improved. These are-

- They need more employees in the recruitment team. In a short time, it is very difficult to them complete all the process. So they need manpower.
- BRAC bank need to reduce the extra pressure and amount of work of the employee.
- They need to create their own e-requirement website sometimes it takes long time to find out the candidate through BD jobs.
- They need to focus on the quality of employees.
- It is very difficult to conduct many interview at the same time. They need to change the process of interview.
- In BBL, they should develop their operating system. For the intern there is no specific computers and sometimes the computer cannot operate properly.
- Sometimes they call for interview by phone call therefore it creates confusion and candidates does not get proper information. So the HR team need to maintain this process.
- It is hard to call all the candidates for joining which takes long time, so they need to take any proper system for that.
Conclusion

BRAC bank limited always consider their values and performance as a most important factor. In BBL, they always try to maintain their work and employee’s performance. Human Resource Division of BRAC bank helps to maintain employee’s quality and performance. It is a great experience for me doing my internship as an intern at recruitment and relationship department in HR division of BRAC Bank Limited. From my internship learning, it helps me acquire new knowledge and real life experience on HR recruitment system. In my report, I came up with all the key site of the recruitment process and HR practice. Overall it can be said that recruitment process of BRAC bank is one of most powerful Human Resource Division.
