The contract of employment should also be prepared at this stage.

- If there are several suitable candidates, it may be appropriate to “hold” rather than reject these until the outcome of the offer to the most suitable candidate is known.

- All unsuccessful candidates should be notified of the outcome appropriately and are provided with feedback, if requested, by the Chair of the Recruitment Panel.
If anyone accepts this job offer, the hire date will be on the day that s/he attends new-hire orientation. Plan to work for the remainder of the business day after new-hire orientation ends.

Using this information, the company determines which job boards, communication channels, and advertisement strategies are best for targeting candidates with the required skill sets.

INDEPENDENT

Conclusion
Conclusively, I would looked at the extent to which Independent Television hold themselves accountable for effective HRM systems and adherence to the Merit System Principles (as appropriate) or other organizational values and policies.

In sum, the organizational performance of ITV could be explained by its effective recruitment and selection practices and performance appraisal practices. As the review of the literature showed, research has established that although the value of a company’s human resource assets may not show up directly on its balance sheet, it nevertheless, has tremendous impact on an organization’s performance. However, there was insufficient evidence to show that ITV remuneration practices as well as its training and development practices contribute positively towards its corporate performance, as perceived by the respondents.

Based on the findings of this research, it is recommended that the management of GCGL continue to ensure that the HR policy, which is a result of the corporate strategy to use human resource, among others, to achieve outstanding performance every year, is upheld. In addition, copies of the HR policy should be made available to all employees to ensure widespread dissemination and application of the policies. Management should continue to ensure that the recruitment and selection process is, and seen to be fair. There should be measures that will ensure that all recruitment and selection practices adhere to the standards and policies of the company since effective recruitment and selection practices will ensure positive financial returns for the company, either through ensuring effectiveness on the part of employees, or minimization of costs associated with training and retraining of employees.

Using this information, the company determines which job boards, communication channels, and advertisement strategies are best for targeting candidates with the required skill sets.

Positions that require specific technical skill sets, the company often relies on niche job boards since they reduce the candidate pool by targeting a more applicable audience. Recommendations
According to my work on Independent Television, I have identified some sectors where some development can happen; here are those,

• Training and Development issue:

More intensive training program should be introduced to increase the employee performance to the optimum level. The HR policy could include certain provisions regarding to a reutilized and modern training.

• HR counseling cell:

In this system, the employer-employee relationship can increase. Here, to authorized HR personal, all employees will come and will tell their problems. HR personal will then take necessary steps.

• Continuous modernization and revision:

Modernization and revision of the HR policies and strategies are indispensable for any organization as the world is getting more diversified day by day. The head of HR should continuously monitor the changes happening around and adjust the policies to match the changed scenario.

Conclusion
Conclusively, I would looked at the extent to which Independent Television hold themselves accountable for effective HRM systems and adherence to the Merit System Principles (as appropriate) or other organizational values and policies.

In sum, the organizational performance of ITV could be explained by its effective recruitment and selection practices and performance appraisal practices. As the review of the literature showed, research has established that although the value of a company’s human resource assets may not show up directly on its balance sheet, it nevertheless, has tremendous impact on an organization’s performance. However, there was insufficient evidence to show that ITV remuneration practices as well as its training and development practices contribute positively towards its corporate performance, as perceived by the respondents.

Based on the findings of this research, it is recommended that the management of GCGL continue to ensure that the HR policy, which is a result of the corporate strategy to use human resource, among others, to achieve outstanding performance every year, is upheld. In addition, copies of the HR policy should be made available to all employees to ensure widespread dissemination and application of the policies. Management should continue to ensure that the recruitment and selection process is, and seen to be fair. There should be measures that will ensure that all recruitment and selection practices adhere to the standards and policies of the company since effective recruitment and selection practices will ensure positive financial returns for the company, either through ensuring effectiveness on the part of employees, or minimization of costs associated with training and retraining of employees.
