

Dhaka Tribune

November 17, 2015

Radio Dhol presents Inter University Cultural Festivals organised by BUCuC

BRAC University will be hosting the “Inter University Cultural Festival” organised by BRAC University Cultural Club and presented by Radio Dhol 94.0 FM at the Shilpakala Academy on November 12. The event will showcase talents of youth from different public and private universities of Dhaka.

BRAC University Cultural Club (BUCuC), the cultural hub of BRAC University, has been actively arranging cultural shows both inside and outside the university. Since its inception in 2001, the club has achieved success and recognition both at home and abroad. This event will be another milestone to the club’s legacy.

The show will be starting from 11am. BRAC University will be the host for a cultural amalgamation of different universities for a day of celebrating music, dance and culture. Universities such as North South University, United International University, East West University, University of Liberal Arts and Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology will be participating in this festival.

Respected faculties and guests will be present in the event, while each university is given the chance to show the audience how each institution has a unique and vibrant culture. The event will also highlight how public and private universities can come together to create something good. Singer and performer Arnob will be the guest in this event.