

Saturday, July 19, 2008

NEWAGE

BRAC Univ opens Centre for Languages

Staff Correspondent

BRAC University on Thursday launched its language centre, Centre for Languages.

The centre will offer a number of general and basic courses in Spanish, French, Chinese, Russian and other foreign languages alongside Bangla.

The University Grants Commission chairman, Professor Nazrul Islam, inaugurated the centre at a function at the BRAC Centre Inn, said a press release.

Salehuddin Ahmed, Pro-VC of the university chaired the function, attended among others, by the registrar of the university Mahmood Hasan, dean of the BRAC Business School Professor Iftekhar Ghani Chowdhury, chairpersons of different departments, directors of BRAC and academics.

In 2005, the Centre for Languages, previously known as English Language Programme, was inaugurated to improve the English Language skills of the BRAC University students.