Executive Summary

Working as a Key Account Executive for WebAble Digital, I gathered lot of experience in Digital Marketing sector. In the client service department, it always creates opportunity to engage with new work. The experience which I am getting during work with WebAble Digital is precious for my future.

The paper will represent the social media communication strategy and the interactions of an audience with it. The basic focus was to understand the effectiveness of social media of Nokia Bangladesh and to understand the effects the interactions of the audience was taken as the measurement tool. The paper will mainly target Facebook Page activities as their prime media of online interaction is Facebook. The audience of the Facebook page for Nokia Bangladesh was my target population and therefore the study area was mainly focused on major cities of Bangladesh like Dhaka from the attitude of online interactions. I basically used the quantitative method to know the information and analyze it on its basis. The findings show that the audience interacted with more visually familiar and local perspective images. And also, the young generation is the main audience here. Thus, it makes us understand that multinational companies need to communicate with the locals in their own way to have a better outcome. The entire report is divided into three parts. In the first part it describes the employee information and overview of the internship program. In the second part it describes the organizations part where it describes the operation of the company. In last part it discusses the objective and methodology of the project briefly. In this segment, I also compiled the recommendation part.

2.1.3 Scope

2.1.4 Limitation

The study has limitations. The use of a single multinational mobile brand usually seems to be a limitation when the dependent and independent variables are from the same source. Therefore, future studies should take into account the linear studies of these relationships. Finally, research data is taken from a single region and covers a wide range to ensure the acceptability of future research results.

2.1.5 Significance

In 2019, the number of Internet users worldwide was more than 4 billion, an increase of 9% over the previous year [1]. The number of social media users is 3.84 billion in 2019, up 9% from the previous year [1]. As of January 2019, there were approximately 33 million Facebook users in Bangladesh, more than 19% of the total population.

According to a report by Google's internal statistics, the audience of YouTube, a video-sharing platform owned by Google in Bangladesh, has increased by 64% year-on-year to 2.94%. According to HYPE Dhaka, you can reach up to 2.1 million in Bangladesh via Instagram Ad [4]. Marketing and advertising on social media is just one part of digital marketing. In Bangladesh, brands are also running their ads through Google and the local display network. 2.3.1 Legal Structure and Ownership

2.3.1.1 Level: Ovick Alam, the Chief Executive Officer of WebAble said he believes in expanding horizontally not vertically. All the projects in the company are team based hence there is not much need of hierarchy. Infact, he believes that it slows down the decision-making process to a huge extent. There are only 4 layers in the respective departments and across the organization. They mostly emphasize on team- performance than individual performance when it comes to compensation. Therefore, this structure can provide challenges and create work opportunities that will, in theory, motivate the employees. Job rotation and job enlargement occur on a frequent basis.

2.3.1.2 Differentials: In WebAble, the differentials between pay is given by the number of years worked in the company and number of hours worked. For example, part-time workers are paid 15 thousand because they work 30 hours a week and full-time workers get paid double 48 hours a week.

2.3.1.3 Content and Value: Workers who joined WebAble during the time it was nothing significant gets a higher multiplier in their yearly increment. Ovick Alam said that ‘I have two designers who started working for us when we had only one client. They took a greater risk than the ones who are appointed currently. Hence, they are rewarded more for believing the company and showing utmost loyalty.

As for work equipment, developers and designers have a 1.8% increase in their annual growth compared to other employers. This is due to the fact that their expertise in the market is unique and the complexity of the work is high. It is very difficult to get naturally good developers and designers so it is more valuable. On the other hand, account managers and sales executives can be taught to be skilled in their work. The company hires sales executives at the highest cost because they bring in the majority of customers. Their contribution to organizational goals is stronger than theirs. They do not get a higher multiplier however they get a lump sum for every client they bring in.

- ✓ Currently they have no separate HR department. So, they should come up with a proper HR department.
- ✓ They have a huge market opportunity in production on Web episodes. So, they should come up with some efficient visual storytellers to create a separate video production department.
- ✓ Most of the brands are spending huge amount of money in digital media buying. So, if they can open a separate media planning wing will have a greater impact on revenue.
- ✓ As this industry is embryonic and growing too fast, they should come up with some paid/non-paid training sessions for others.
- ✓ Most of the clients are not ready to share proper timeline for the campaigns. Sometimes clients do not want to understand the reality. As a result, it creates pressure on the agency. To solve this issue, clients' needs to have proper idea about time line for delivery any campaign.

CHAPTER 3: Project Part: “The Communication Strategy of Social Media Marketing of Nokia Bangladesh”

3.1 Introduction

In this chapter there will be a brief discussion on the background of the study and the objectives of this study. Adding to that, the significance of the study will also state how important this particular project is and how it will contribute to the future studies. The chapter then will continue on to the research findings and conclusions. Lastly, it will be finished with a brief recommendations.

3.1.1 Background of the Study

Every brand is now promoting their product or service through Digital Media. Digital platforms are sharing real time data for the digital campaigns. In this age of mobile phone, Digital Marketing sector is growing rapidly. Huge investments are coming in this sector now days. Number of digital marketing agencies are increasing rapidly. As people are now more on digital platforms, brands are now trying to expand their communication - information, offering, and benefits over the digital media. Customers are now like to engage with the brand one to one. Digital Marketing platforms are creating this chance for the brands to contact with their customer one to one. More than 14 million active Facebook users are in Bangladesh and every seconds Facebook is getting new subscribers. These factors are increasing the credibility of digital frontiers in Bangladesh. Being a marketing student, the ever-changing behavior of a consumer in terms of interacting with social media has always made me amazed and attracted to search for the root cause of it. Thus the reason to choose this topic as my research paper is to explore more to the digital effectiveness and understand the human behavior pattern on social media.

3.1.2 Objectives

- ✓ To determine the communication strategy of Social media marketing.
- ✓ To explore the effect of interactions on Social Media Platform.
- ✓ To know which kind of Facebook posts, attract the audience for a known multinational mobile phone brand such as Nokia in Bangladesh.

3.1.3 Significance

This study focuses on the communication strategy and the influence of social media marketing of a renowned multinational mobile phone company in an attempt to understand the consumer behavior of the Bangladeshi public. The study can help other multinational companies to revamp their marketing strategy for Bangladesh and help them get a better microscope view for the Bangladeshi industry. The mobile phone industry is now saturated with multinational companies and most of them are from South Asia, which creates a problem for other European companies like Nokia to conquer the market, even if we are one of the leading companies. Therefore, this report will help you understand the pattern of consumer behavior on the social media platform for the mobile industry in Bangladesh.

3.2 Methodology

3.2.1 Research Design

The purpose of this study is to find out how the local audience interacts with multinational corporations. Therefore, the data from the insights on the Facebook page was used as a measurement tool to find the perfect way to understand and communicate human interactions. This survey was designed to capture human interactions on the social media of your favorite companies. The content of a Facebook page is considered successful based on its interaction with it. Therefore, good-performing content was considered standard when other content was not met. After collecting data on the interaction with the post, it was categorized into various criteria to understand the strategies used to communicate with the viewer.

3.2.2 Population, Sample and Size

The total population of the study was 272,308 people, the number of people on the page and there was no sample size because we could not communicate with them individually, as opposed to the privacy issue.

3.2.3 Data Collection Process

Data has been collected from the Facebook Page management section and sometimes manually from the posts to cross check.

3.2.4 Data analysis

The data has been analyzed using the excel sheet method and common top performing method to understand the interactions of the audience. But sometimes it was taken manually to bring the findings.

3.3 Finding and Analysis

The findings of the research are-

1. Including the daily life of the audience or events in the communication increases the interaction rate: The interaction rate gets increased when the daily activities of the target groups are connected with the company's promotional activities as well as campaigns. It helps people to relate their needs with the offering to a large extent. As an example, in the case of Nokia Mobile, we found that the interaction rate of the young audiences is much higher when we publish the contents that are more relevant to their interest such as - the gaming features or camera features of the mobile.

2. It is easier to communicate with the younger generation than with the older generation: The young generation including Generation Y and Generation Z can easily cope with modern devices, apps, technologies, etc. Therefore, it is easier to position proper information on young people. However, the old people (Baby Boomers) hardly accept modern practices and it is still complex to make them aware of specific products or services. As an example, from the Insight Data of the Nokia mobile's Facebook page we found that the engagement rate of the younger target age group is higher than the other age groups. In this sense, it's easier to communicate with this younger target group rather than the older generation.

3. Less brand placement helps communicate better: Audiences in social media platforms always prefer less brand placement. In mobile branding the content which emphasizes on the non-product content such as - Lifestyle based content, Engaging Content, Discount or Offer related content etc. will get the higher number of reach & engagement. As an example, Nokia

Mobile decided to upload the Discount or Offer related post more, after getting the higher number of Engagement in previous.

4. Videos are not responding better if they don't get off to a good start: Nowadays people have easy access to videos through YouTube, Facebook, Instagram as well as other platforms. If a video does not have a good start, or attractive name or big factors, viewers or target audience may switch to others without any delay. An analysis found that a better communicative video attracts the audience's attention in the first 10 seconds. Also, short videos create a higher number of engagements in social media platforms than the longer videos. Holding the audience attraction in shorter videos is easier than longer videos. As an example, Nokia Mobile prefers to post videos which are not longer than 60 to 70 seconds. So, to get the attention of the audience videos must have to be started with a good start.

5. Global contents are not much welcomed even though they are well polished: There exist many global contents which are hardly accepted by the target audience because of irrelevant messages or unattractiveness. The main reason behind this, in local content the audience can easily relate their perception and thoughts. Mobile brands like Nokia Mobile Bangladesh also evaluate that the engagement rate of Local Contents is much higher than the engagement rate of well published Global contents.

The objectives of my research are to determine the communication strategy, effects of interactions in social media and to know which kind of Facebook posts attract the audience for a known multinational mobile phone brand such as Nokia in Bangladesh or Social media marketing. The findings of the research and analysis are:

1. The communication strategy of social media marketing: Communication strategy of social media is quite different from the traditional media of communication. Without proper communication strategy, brands cannot reach their goal. In social media marketing communication strategy try to focus on four components - Communication goal, Targeted Audience, Communication Plan & Communication Channel. A standard communication strategy helps to generate the highest number of engagements by reaching the highest number of audiences. A content on the Facebook page is considered as a successful content on the basis of the interactions with it. Thus, the contents that performed well were considered to be the standard that the other content failed to meet. After the data of the interactions with the post has been collected, it was then divided into different criteria to understand the strategy to use to communicate with the audience. After the analysis in Nokia Mobile Bangladesh, I found the contents which are related to lifestyle-based, offer based like a price drop, cashback related contents are got more traction. And even when they collaborate with an influencer or use influencers in their campaign and content those are performed really well. So, they are now trying to change their communication strategy. They are now more focusing on the Influencer's collaboration Campaign, launch their flagship phones with influencers, or mega-celebrity to create hype on social media. Because nowadays Influencer collaboration campaigns are trending in social media.

2. Explore the effect of interactions on Social Media Platform: Social media platforms are most popular for communication in this digital era. Now, customers prefer to purchase more online or virtual stores rather than physical outlets. Even in some cases customers prefer to compare the product reviews in social media before purchasing. On the other hand, social media marketing is measurable than other platforms. For Nokia Mobile Bangladesh our social platforms are Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, Google Display Ad ETC. Also, Nokia's sales are increasing day by day for the social media marketing.

3. To know which kind of Facebook posts, attract the audience for a known multinational mobile phone brand such as Nokia in Bangladesh: In the case of mobile brands, contents that mostly focus on the features are attracting a higher number of audiences. Other contents that get higher audience attractions are Engaging posts and Campaign. In these posts, the audience will be able to communicate directly through comments & share.

This study provides evidence that local audiences, even in a third world country, prefer to look at their own position on social media to communicate with them. The basic communication strategy is to get the interest of the audience at first sight and then work based on this.

3.4 Summary and Conclusions

Through communication strategy we try to achieve the communication objectives. In our communication strategy we try to focus on four components - Communication goal, Targeted Audience, Communication Plan & Communication Channel. A standard communication strategy helps to generate the highest number of engagements by reaching the highest number of audiences. Now, customers prefer to purchase more online or virtual stores rather than physical outlets. Even in some cases customers prefer to compare the product reviews in social media before purchasing.

Research shows that communication with the audience, no matter what the platform, should be done in their own way or language since people use social platforms in their leisure time and they get bothered if they are being poked from a brand outside of their comfort zone. Thus, it suggests the multinational companies have different and customized communication processes and methods for each area and in fact zones.

3.5 Recommendations

During the research for this report, I learned some topics of different which are help me to understand that there are lot of improvements need to improve the Communication Strategy of Social Media Marketing of Nokia Bangladesh Here I have some recommendations –

1. Nokia Mobile authority should increase more budget in the digital platforms. As digital media is getting popular day by day, platforms are also increasing the rate for ad. lSo, Nokia should increase the budget to be in the race.
2. Before running a campaign, previous data should be analysis to make strategies. Previous data gives clear idea about customer taste and recent digital trends. It also gives idea what types of communication is suitable for a brand to get more engagement.
3. Every digital campaign should be more ROI driven. There are lot of tools in every digital platform which helps to understand the ROI of the campaign in real time. This real time data is also giving what kind of changes needs to take in the campaign strategy to make the campaign more successful.
4. Reports from vendors should be analyze more carefully. Understanding the ROI against KPI is very important.
5. Competitor’s activity also needs to monitor carefully. As most of the brands are youth centric and only proper communication can change the buying decision of the youths, so what kind of communications competitors are using should be keep in mind while developing strategies for digital media.
