

23 Nov, 2014

BRAC University holds day-long workshop

A day-long workshop on "Secularism and Faith-Inspired Development: Understanding Contestation and Collaboration" organised by the Department of Economics and Social Sciences of BRAC University in collaboration with Georgetown University's Berkley Centre for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs and World Faiths Development Dialogue was held in the city Saturday. BRAC University vice-chancellor Prof Saad Andaleeb and Economics and Social Sciences department chairman Prof Syed M Hashemi, Berkley Centre for Religion, Peace, and World Affairs, Georgetown University senior fellow Prof Katherine Marshall and Power and Participation Research Centre Founder and Chairman Hossain Zillur Rahman attended the workshop.