The whole process is given below -
Fig. Recruitment process
Completion and screening of the application form:

In AML, the first and foremost step of recruitment and selection process is the completion of application form which provides the basic employment information for use in later steps of the selection process and can also be used to screen out unqualified applicants.

Recommendations

AML group may organize the job design more efficiently to achieve the organizational goal in the future. Job description and job specification can be more balanced so that employees becomes more satisfied. The reward system of AML might be provided on earned way not given. To do this they may give more emphasis on performance and keep the performance appraisal in a proper way. To improve the employee and labor relations, they may maintain a good relationship among them through meeting, conference etc. They may organize more Employee Training and Development Program for the betterment of the organization. After going through AML’s recruitment and selection process I have some Recommendations that might be helpful for the organization. This are as follows:

✓ As Abdul Monem Limited has a number of sister concerns and business units they should go for frequent recruitments to hire the right person for the right job.

✓ A monitoring unit can be formed for measuring the evaluation of the employees.

✓ AML’s HR manager should train the employees more for having efficient so that they perform the best for organization.

✓ To overcome the problem of evaluators’ unavailability, AML can schedule at a quarterly basis and book assessors’ schedule through internal software to ensure they remain free in that time.

✓ In the case of urgency they should utilize the sources of candidates well to reduce the recruitment and selection time but should not be confined to those sources only. It might deprive them in getting diverse talents.

✓ They should invite fresh graduates from all over Bangladesh so that the company can get some fresh minds to operate the organization.
Conclusion:

In Bangladesh today multinational sector is one of the most establish area. For the aspects of economic development, multinational sector must be reformed. Private organizations are comparing important role to the government banks in the country. Internship program brings a student closer to the real life situation and theory helps to launch a career with some prior experience. This internship program in AML group was a great opportunity for me to judge my theoretical knowledge in terms of practical experience. The conflicts between theory and practical way of Human Resource Management practice helped me to think more realistic. Through this internship program, I came to know about these practical strategies, which will help me to employment my booking knowledge in practical field of work. Recently, HR department is designing formal form for the applicant interview, salary survey, training needs assessment. HR department is also forecasting for long term human resource need. Employees are one of the power or instrument of an organization. In AML group, the employees are motivated. In, AML a positive motivation philosophy & practice improves productivity, quality & service. AML has maintained good compensation policy for their employees, Maintenance is another part of AML. AML is also committed to provide employee proper safety & health. They have taken so many programs to ensure employees’ rights of safety & health. AML gives more emphasis on their communication with employee. Starting from the first process of recruitment all the steps are regulated by the HR department of AML very effectively. That's why employee gives their best effort for the development of AML.
