A debating team from Brac University has recently become the first-ever Bangladeshi team to clinch the championship title of Cambridge Intervarsity 2021.

It is one of the world's most competitive and prestigious debate tournaments, organised by the Cambridge Union.

Sajid Asbat Khandaker and Sourodip Paul, students of Master of Science in Applied Economics at Brac University, won the title in the finals on November 14, a university statement said on Thursday.

The other three teams in the finals were Imperial College London (UK), McGill University (Canada) and Ateneo de Manila University (The Philippines).

Sajid was also adjudged the best ESL speaker and 4th best speaker overall. Sourodip Paul was the 2nd best ESL speaker and 8th best speaker overall.
