

BRACU honours Prof Anisuzzaman

21 April 2014

Metro Desk

BRAC University accorded a reception to Prof Emeritus Dr Anisuzzaman recently on his winning Padma Bhushan, the third highest civilian award of India, says a press release.

Prof Anisuzzaman is also a member of the board of Trustees of BRAC University (BRACU).

Speaking on the occasion, Founder Chairperson of BRAC and BRAC University Sir Fazle Hassan Abed showered laurels on Prof Anisuzzaman and said that the award brought pride and honour to the country and held the image of the country high.

Agriculture Minister Matia Chowdhury also attended the function. She said Prof Anisuzzaman is an icon of the cultural and literary world.

In response, Prof Anisuzzaman thanked all and hoped that the youths of the country will march forward, being imbued with the spirit of the liberation war.

The function was also attended by BRACU Vice Chancellor Prof Ainun Nishat and elite of society.