

CCC President calls on BRAC University VC

Thu, 12 March 2015, 12:00:00 am

Dr Bjorn Lomborg, President of Copenhagen Consensus Centre (CCC), called on Prof Syed Saad Andaleeb, vice-chancellor of BRAC University, on the university campus in the capital recently.

The Copenhagen Consensus is a think tank focused on identifying smart solutions based on evidence of economic efficiency, says a press release.

In the meeting, they exchanged ideas on the top priority of development initiatives that Bangladesh should undertake involving all stakeholders across the country especially thought policy makers' and identify smart solutions based on evidence of economic efficiency.

Prof Sabina F Rashid, dean of James P Grant School of Public Health, Dr Wahid Abdallah, Asstt Prof of Economics and Social Sciences and Md Rafiqul Islam Talukdar, of BRAC Institute participated in the discussion.